

ABSTRACT

A vehicle rearview system (1) comprising at least one rearview mirror unit fitted with an electrochromic mirror (2), a control device and a vehicle voltage supply device. The control device is electrically connected to the vehicle voltage supply and to the electrochromic mirror so as to control the reflection characteristics the mirror in accordance with a control voltage. The control device comprises a flat heating resistor (3) to dissipate the heat resulting from electric power loss.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY